This small house, on 1 acre of ground, is the property of a Polish immigrant miner, shown here with his wife. This place is exceptionally good, though located in a depressed community of some 80 houses. This is typical of a family who can appreciate good living. Their children are now grown, well educated, and have moved away. This house is neat, spotless, and well kept, with a modern bathroom installed by the present tenant and owner. The garden is impressive and the lawn is like a strip of green velvet. These people are intelligent, industrious, and good citizens. The operators state that this is one of their most productive employees. They represent the upper one percent.
